FINDING YOUR BERLIN HOME

Securing suitable housing in Berlin is a crucial step in your journey as an international student. The city's dynamic atmosphere comes with a high demand for affordable accommodations, making it essential to plan ahead. Berlin offers various housing options, including dormitories, flats, apartments, shared living spaces, and hostels for short-term stays.

To alleviate this, it is recommended that students, upon completing their enrollment, prioritize the application for student housing through the university's cooperation with StudierendenWERK's student housing.

DORMITORY APPLICATION

To streamline the housing process, we recommend initiating your dormitory application promptly. This initial step is crucial, and students are advised to make their dormitory application a priority, as the demand for student housing in Berlin is substantial. Detailed information and the application link can be found on the studierendenWERK BERLIN website.

You will need your certificate of enrollment to apply for a place in a hall of residence. You can find out how to obtain this in the „Academic system in Germany“ section of our comprehensive guide under the heading Forms you need to know.

FLATS AND APPARTMENTS

For a more independent living experience, consider renting a flat or apartment. Berlin has a diverse range of options to suit different preferences and budgets. Are you looking for your ideal Berlin apartment? Whether furnished or unfurnished, the city offers a wide range of options to meet your needs. Here you will find information to make your search easier:

This platform is not only a platform for apartments, but also a marketplace for free and used items. From furniture to gadgets - this is where Berliners exchange and discover: Check out the free offerings in Berlin here.

HOSTELS

If you need temporary accommodation when you arrive, hostels are a convenient and affordable option for a short-term stay:

Travelers Hostel: Explore affordable options at Hostel World

Independent Hostels of Germany: German-Hostels

For more detailed information on securing accommodation in Berlin, we recommend the comprehensive „Individual Accommodation Berlin“ list. This list includes a variety of accommodation options to suit a wide range of preferences and needs. You can access the guide directly via the following link: Alternative Accommodation Options. As it is important to have a choice, this guide aims to provide students with a range of alternatives for their accommodation in Berlin.

BEWARE OF HOUSING SCAMS: PROTECT YOURSELF

In high-demand housing markets, scams are widespread, especially on platforms such as Facebook or when looking for an apartment online.

If you are looking for an accommodation:

!!! Be wary of scammers - never pay before viewing an apartment, refuse checks, avoid receiving keys in the mail or through an agent, and never give out sensitive information like a copy of your ID in advance. Be alert to ensure a safe home search.

!!! If you ever have any doubts about your housing contact, read Wg-Gesucht's detailed guide to recognizing fake ads.

!!! Don't hesitate to ask about the experiences of Berliners on platforms such as Reddit or Facebook. It is important that you ensure the authenticity of your housing situation. So stay informed and ask the community if necessary.

INSURANCES

HEALTH INSURANCE ESSENTIALS

Public Health Insurance

Private Health Insurance

Family Health Insurance

HEALTH INSURANCE for STUDENTS with SO-

CIAL SECURITY AGREEMENTS

PRE-INSURANCE ILLNESSES

PRIVATE LIABILITY INSURANCE

HEALTH INSURANCE ESSENTIALS

When planning your stay in Germany, securing health insurance is paramount, starting from day one. Don't forget that you need to have a proof of sufficient health insurance coverage when applying for a visa and residence permit.

!!! Remember that your health insurance company will also manage your registration for unemployment and pension insurance, so this decision is important even before you apply for your visa.

As an international student, you can either choose the statutory (public) insurance or private insurance.

Public Health Insurance

Explore public health insurance options, a mandatory requirement for students under 30 years old or those in certain programs. In Germany the statutory health insurance system is administered by various insurance companies, e.g. Techniker Krankenkasse, AOK, Barmer and many more.

In the public system, there are no direct costs for doctor and hospital visits or routine dental treatment. However, you will have to pay 10% or part of the cost of certain treatments yourself. With public insurance, you will receive a health insurance card.

HEALTH INSURANCE ESSENTIALS

Private Health Insurance

If you're over 30 or have specific needs, private health insurance may be an alternative. Check the List of German Private Health Insurances Companies.

With private insurance, you have to pay the cost of medical services upfront and can claim reimbursement later. Private insurance often offers more comprehensive benefits, e.g. massages, physiotherapy and certain dental treatments.

Family Health Insurance

Health insurance for your family is crucial. In Germany, you and your non-working family members are insured together under the statutory health insurance scheme (GKV). For private health insurance, on the other hand, you generally have to pay individual premiums.

For families, it is advisable to choose statutory health insurance. If you are insured with a German statutory health insurance fund and your partner's income is less than €520 per month, you can include them in your policy. If their income exceeds this limit, they must take out separate insurance. Children are usually insured with one of their parents.

HEALTH INSURANCE for STUDENTS with SOCIAL SECURITY AGREEMENTS

If you're from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Macedonia, Montenegro, Serbia, Turkey, or Tunisia and plan to study in Germany, here's what you need to know:

Entitlement Document: Obtain an 'entitlement document' from your home health insurance provider before leaving your country.

Visit a German Statutory Health Insurance Provider: Take the document to a statutory health insurance provider in Germany, like AOK. They will issue an insurance certificate for your university enrollment.

!!! For Moroccan Citizens: Unfortunately, Morocco isn't covered by this agreement. Moroccan students must register for student health insurance with a German healthcare provider to access all benefits.

!!! If privately insured at home, present a letter of exemption and insurance coverage confirmation.

PRE-INSURANCE ILLNESSES

Illnesses pre-existing your stay may not be covered. Consider bringing necessary medication, especially for private insurance, which may not cover certain situations.

PRIVATE LIABILITY INSURANCE

In addition to compulsory health insurance, it is advisable to take out private liability insurance. This important insurance protects you if you accidentally damage something that does not belong to you, e.g. if you cause an accident as a pedestrian or cyclist. Without this insurance, you could be personally responsible for potentially costly damages that could run into thousands of euros. All major insurance companies offer this insurance.

!!! Health Insurance step is crucial even before applying for a visa, ensuring a smooth process and access to healthcare benefits during your studies in Germany. For more details, consult FU Berlin's Health Insurance Guide.

PUBLIC REGISTRATION: ANMELDUNG

Essential:

When you arrive in Germany, you must register with the local authorities within two weeks of your move. Remember that proof of residence registration is necessary for opening a bank account and applying for a residence permit. This step is essential and should take priority.

MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

You can book your appointment on Service Portal Berlin.

Scheduling appointments for your application: insider tips

When booking appointments through the Berlin Service Portal, be sure to select all locations to maximize availability. Widening your search will increase your chances of finding an appointment, but it can be difficult to get an appointment within the required two-week time frame. A valuable tip is to search late in the day for appointments for the next day. Many people cancel their appointments the day before, which increases your chances of finding a suitable appointment at short notice.

MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

To register in Germany, you'll need the following documents:

- !!! Your passport or identity card,
- !!! Rental contract,
- !!! A completed application form

You can obtain the application form either from the registration offices or from the Service Portal Berlin under Forms/Forms:

Forms

- registration form
- Supplement to the registration/main residence declaration
- Move-in confirmation from the apartment provider/landlord \(sample\)
- Move-in confirmation from the housing provider/landlord for Ukrainian refugees
- Declaration of consent from the legal guardians

fees

no

Legal basis

- Federal Registration Act \(BMG\)

Average time of processing

Registrations can usually be processed immediately.

MAKING AN APPOINTMENT

!!! Registration for EU nationals (including Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, and Switzerland): If you intend to stay in Germany for more than three months, you need to register with the local authorities („Einwohnermeldeamt“) after your arrival.

!!! During registration, you'll be asked about your church affiliation. If you declare one, be aware that it triggers an automatic obligation to pay German church tax, amounting to eight percent of your payable income tax.

VISA & RESIDENCE PERMIT

VISA REQUIREMENTS

N26:

Highlighted as a preferred choice among students for its perceived freedom and quick banking. Noted for having customer support and a website available in English.

SHORT-TERM VISA CONSIDERATIONS

Students with a 3-month visa have faced challenges with Commerzbank and Volksbank. In contrast, Sparkasse has been reported to readily open accounts without such hindrances.
